Charge Russia Seeks To Destroy United Nations

Several Nations Accuse Soviet Of Seeking To Destroy U. N. Effectiveness

DELIBERATE MOVES LAID TO RUSSIA

By GEORGE DUNNO
(U. N. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Sept. 10.—Charges by the United States, Great Britain, Australia and the Netherlands that Soviet Russia deliberately was trying to destroy the effectiveness of the United Nations laid a dangerous ground-work for debate at this afternoon's session of the UN Security Council.

Still pending was the Soviet-inspired accusation that Greece—aided by British troops—had installed a monarchistic government in Athens and was stirring up a new Balkan war.

Pull No Punches
The western powers pulled no punches in accusing the Russian orbit of deliberately undertaking to jam the United Nations' efforts at world peace.

The United States and Australia joined in branding Russia and her satellites with a deliberate move to use the United Nations security council as a sounding board for "wild propaganda"—all aimed at disrupting world security.

These two countries, two of the 11 council members, suggested that Moscow was playing the same game both in New York and Paris. They proposed that the charges against Greece might better be aired in Paris where the ranking foreign ministers are meeting.

Press and radio propaganda emanating from Moscow specifically were challenged.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Taylor street by-pass through the city has not yet been marked as an alternate 422 route, its original purpose, it is reported to Pa. News.

On Mercer street this morning the queue waiting for football tickets extended around the corner and half-way down the block on North street.

Rain of last night gave a big impetus to falling leaves in some sections of the city. Pa. News notes. Under some trees this morning it looked like fall was well advanced.

One little passenger car, to which was attached a trailer four or five times its size, went through the city on Monday afternoon, apparently unimpeded by the load it was hauling.

Pa. News heard of one little girl, about the first grade in school, who got on a Cascade Park bus last evening. After she rode to the park and back to the center of town without seeing familiar streets the worried bus driver found that the young lady wanted to go to Grant street.

A snappy Marine Corps jeep trimmed in orange and blue, manned by three stalwart marines, was attracting quite a bit of attention in the downtown area of the city on Monday afternoon. The young men were here in connection with the appearance of the Marine Corps band in the city on September 24.

State-wide observance of "Pennsylvania Week" beginning September 17 was urged today by Gov. Edward Martin. In a proclamation, Governor Martin pointed out that the week was designed to enable Pennsylvanians to have "a thorough knowledge and understanding of their resources and advantages."

Leaves For England To Claim His Bride

New Castle has had its war brides—girls who have come from other countries here and one from here who has gone to England, but Keller N. Cochran, of 309 Fern street, this city, has the distinction of being the first American prospective war groom to return to England from New Castle.

Mr. Cochran, who operates an ice cream factory here, served in England as an M. P. in the Army for a year and a half. It was then that he met his bride-to-be, Miss Joan Hyde, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hyde of Birmingham, England.

While other men are having their brides-to-be come to America to marry, Mr. Cochran is complying with a request from the young lady's parents that their only child be married at home.

With the Maritime strike in progress, Mr. Cochran is not sure of immediate transportation abroad. He has booked passage on the liner, Ernie Pyle and left New Castle last night in the hope that the strike will be over by the time he reaches New York.

After the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Cochran expect to return to New Castle to reside at the home of Mr. Cochran's mother, Mrs. Jane M. Cochran, of 309 Fern street.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Sept. 10.—(INS)—The Bulgarian foreign office announced today that 92 per cent of the 4,103,000 votes cast in Sunday's plebiscite was in favor of a republic and against a monarchy.

The official announcement said 3,801,160 votes were cast to form a republic while only 179,725 were for King Simeon II and the royal family.

It was reported that the nine-year-old king, his mother and the rest of the royal family will soon join the king's uncle, former King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, in exile in Egypt.

NEW WILMINGTON, Sept. 10.—With approximately 300 students enrolled for the afternoon and evening shift at Westminster college, registration for such students will close as scheduled at 5 p. m. Tuesday, according to J. I. Reaney, extension school director.

College authorities are anxiously watching the progress of the building program in hopes that everything will be in readiness for the delayed opening Oct. 2.

Allied Forces In Europe Are Alerted Result Of Incidents

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. N. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Allied forces in Europe and the Near East today were alerted on two week-end for unforeseen developments pending the final signing of the five European peace treaties.

The situation was regarded by diplomats in Washington as being the most crucial since the collapse of Germany, with the danger of trouble breaking out anywhere along a front running from the Baltic to the Dardanelles.

Today the State department awaited full reports on two week-end incidents. These were:

1. A Polish demonstration before the home of Ambassador Arthur Bliss Lane in Warsaw in remonstrance against Secretary of State James F. Byrnes' Stuttgart speech. In this speech Byrnes intimated that the award of Silesia to Poland was not final.

2. The incident in Trieste in which Yugoslavs staged a Communist demonstration in the course of which hand grenades were tossed, injuring seven Americans.

Both of these incidents were reported (Continued on Page Two)

The culvert is being constructed by the Bell Engineering company, sub-contractors for Grove Sons company of Milwaukee. The culvert is to be 10 feet wide and 69 feet in length.

Several other "boxes" or culverts and also an arch have been completed beyond Harbor bridge and also on this side of Harbor bridge along the new route, it is reported.

According to city reports the culvert being built within the city will be over a water course that runs from west of Sampson street east.

The new route 422 will parallel the Pennsylvania railroad from the Harbor bridge toward the city located west of the Incinerator and run into Sampson at Rebecca street. A house which now occupies part of the proposed route is both in the city and county and is to be removed. It has been reported.

Foreign Ministers Session In New York British Proposal

PARIS, Sept. 10.—(INS)—Britain has proposed that the Council of Foreign Ministers meet in New York to discuss peace treaties for Germany and Austria, concurrently with the United Nations General Assembly.

International News Service learned exclusively today that British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin made this suggestion to the other Big Three delegations prior to leaving for London over the week-end.

While no definite answer has been forthcoming as yet, sources in the U. S. delegation believe the foreign ministers will adopt the suggestion.

Bevin said he wished to attend the general assembly meeting and that it is postponed until October 23, as now seems likely, he believes the foreign ministers should meet in New York at the same time.

Yugoslavia Balks At Efforts To Get More Speed In Paris Conference Decisions

U. N. POSTPONEMENT TO OCT. 23 EXPECTED

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. N. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Sept. 10.—Yugoslavia today balked at attempts to speed the Paris peace conference to a conclusion before the proposed Oct. 23 meeting of the United Nations assembly.

Alesh Belber, deputy foreign minister of Yugoslavia vigorously protested against what he said was an attempt to railroad the issue of internationalizing Trieste through conference committees.

Assailing the attempt to speed the timetable of deliberations, Belber declared the fact that several nations want to get ready for a U. N. meeting in October "does not cut any ice."

Should Not Be Hasty
"The assembly date must not mean our work should be hasty."

"We must not allow time to limit and interfere with the work of the sub-committee designated to draw up a statute for an international zone."

British Send More Troops To Palestine Centers

JERUSALEM, Sept. 10.—(INS)—British authorities today announced the arrest of 32 suspected saboteurs as the unchecked wave of violence in Palestine claimed three dead and 11 injured.

British troop reinforcements were dispatched to trouble centers to quell the spreading disturbances.

The latest fatal casualty was a British army sergeant who was killed by extremists while investigating an explosion near Petah Tikva.

Three sappers were injured removing mines from rail installations. The suspected saboteurs were taken into custody in a township north of the all-Jewish city of Tel Aviv which was bombed out by British forces sent into the area.

A search in the Tel Aviv district was being carried out by a force of 3,000 troops of the British sixth air-borne division.

A brigade of British troops cordoned off the community of Ramat Gan near Tel Aviv, and began a systematic search for extremists.

Disclose U.S. Bombers Killed Or Wounded 600 Yanks At St. Lo

By GEORGE MOISE
(U. N. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Lt. Gen. J. Lawton Collins disclosed today for the first time that American bombers killed or wounded 600 U. S. soldiers during the St. Lo breakthrough in France.

Among the dead was Lt. Gen. Lesley J. McNair, at the time commanding general of army ground forces and the highest-ranking casualty suffered by U. S. forces during the war.

Collins' disclosure came in connection with his defense of the 42 mortar, which figured sensationally in the senate investigation of the Garsson munitions empire.

Testimony at the senate committee hearing brought out that mortar shells of the type which killed U. S. troops were manufactured by a Garsson firm.

New York Food Stock Is Cut By Truck Strike

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—(INS)—The truck strike cut deeply into New York City's food supply today, halted movement of building materials and forced some industrial plants to shut-down.

No progress of any kind was reported toward settlement of the week old walk-out.

The strike left hundreds of stores short of food. In many of them, especially the chain grocery and meat markets the shelves were absolutely bare except for certain staples.

May Force Closing
Both the A & P and Safeway Stores announced that unless the strike is settled by 6 p. m. Saturday they will close their stores in the metropolitan area. About eight thousand employees of the chains and 740 stores would be affected by the move.

Independent grocers and butchers were in better shape than the chain stores and spokesmen said they had enough food on hand to keep the city from going hungry as long as perishables are delivered.

Pittsburgh Gets 4-Day Reprieve In Power Strike

Court Order Halts Start Of Strike In Pittsburgh Early This Morning

STRIKE IS PREVENTED AT LAST MINUTE

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 10.—(INS)—Industrial Pittsburgh today had a four-day reprieve from a crippling power work stoppage when a court order was issued halting the Duquesne Light Company's Independent Union from striking against the city.

The preliminary injunction came split seconds before the switches were pulled that would have plunged Metropolitan Pittsburgh into its second blackout in seven months.

At the same time, Judge Walter P. Smart issued orders for top-ranking officials of the parent company—the Standard Gas and Electric Company of New York—to come to Pittsburgh and participate in negotiations.

Hearing On Friday
Judge Smart set Friday for a hearing to make the injunction permanent.

Pickets already had taken their places at the light company's sub and main power stations when Judge Smart signed the order at the stroke of midnight, halting the walkout.

A steady rain did not deter the pickets. When they were notified of the court's action they picked up their placards and trudged either to the union headquarters or home.

Quarry Stone Being Stolen

There are gem thieves, bank bandits, fruit seizers and—also stone thieves, and because of the theft of stone, W. S. Moore, operator of Moore's quarry at Nashua, has for the first time in 50 years been compelled to hire a watchman to protect his property.

He stated today that while he was in a hospital undergoing treatment of injuries from being struck by an auto, someone stole valuable tools from the quarry and it was necessary to purchase more prior to a resumption of operations.

Several nights ago six tons of what is known as stepping stones, or those laid as sidewalks, were put in a field and the next morning all six tons had been stolen. Someone had to drive a truck into the field to carry the stone away.

"It is the first time in the 50 years I have been quarrying stone that I have been required to hire a watchman," Mr. Moore reported today.

Truman Calls Conference Of High Officials

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(INS)—President Truman called a conference today of his army and navy high command.

The chief executive summoned the heads of the war and navy departments and the chiefs of staff of the army and navy to the White House for a meeting at 3 p. m. EST.

The group includes Secretary of War Robert Patterson, Secretary of Navy James V. Forrestal, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, chief of staff and Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, chief of naval operations.

Kidnaped Girl Now Back Home

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 10.—(INS)—Three-year-old Madeline "Toby" Tobias was back with her family today, refreshed with a night's sleep in her own bed following her four-day disappearance with a Negro maid.

Toby, the object of a several-state police search, and the maid were located at a farm house near Terre Haute yesterday.

She was put to bed early last night, when she arrived with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Tobias, by plane from Terre Haute.

Tobias told newsmen and several hundred friends who gathered to celebrate his daughter's homecoming that the little girl was exhausted by her experience and the trip.

To Face Charges
The maid, Mildred Louise Everett, whom Tobias hired a little over a week ago while she was hitchhiking, will be returned to Kansas City to face a charge of kidnaping.

Tobias said Toby was "very attached" to the maid. He added: "Toby wanted Mildred to come back to Kansas City with us."

Toby and her parents were reunited yesterday at the Terre Haute police station, where police took her after they located her at the farm house. Her parents flew to the city in a chartered plane.

Police who questioned the 22-year-old maid, said she told them: "I took Toby because I loved her and wanted her for my own."

While Toby bathed and ate and admired a doll presented her by a friendly policeman, authorities pressed their questioning of Miss Everett.

hearings, although the unions originally petitioned for a reconsideration of the board's action.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—(INS)—Union leaders of the striking maritime workers today boycotted the wage stabilization board meeting in Washington which will reconsider the wage-scale of the striking seamen.

Strength and confidence of the strikers mounted as more ships on the east coast were immobilized.

The only break in the complete tieup in the port of New York was transportation by Army and Navy tug and harbor craft of passengers from vessels considered emergency cases.

A total of 837 passengers, mostly Puerto Ricans from San Juan was taken from the 13,300-ton Marine Tiger and 1,800 passengers were landed from the French liner Athos II.

garded as provocative and aimed at lowering U. S. prestige in both areas. Whether protests would be filed still remained uncertain at the State department. The general impression was that protests would not be filed but some opportunity awaited in which the United States could make clear its displeasure in some concrete form.

In connection with the Lane incident, it was noted that Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov some weeks ago indicated that Moscow did not consider the award of Sillesia to Poland as final. The communist dominated regime did not protest at that time.

Of Greater Significance
And of possibly even greater significance than the demonstration against Lane was the later action of the newspaper of Vice Premier Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, Peasant party leader.

This action appeared to be an open defiance of recent demands of the State department that the lesser parties, including the Peasant party, be allowed to conduct free election campaigns.

If no corrective steps are taken by the Polish government on these matters, it was believed that the United States would have to take steps of its own.

One considered most likely is the barring of relief to Poland after the first of January, when UNRRA expires. After that date the United States, Britain and Canada, the chief contributors, will refuse to join any international relief organization and give aid only where it appears most appropriate.

Aside from Trieste and Poland, the western powers are expected to remain on the alert in Greece, which Russia has recently made a major issue, the Palestine and the Dardanelles.

RESTORE RETAIL PRICE CEILINGS ON MEAT TODAY

price controls on meat as ordered by the price control board on August 20. Wholesale, producers, and slaughterers' ceilings became effective last week.

As the retail ceilings were restored, government officials were unable to find a method of halting the downward trend of livestock shipments to major markets. They admitted that a consumer meat shortage appeared inevitable.

One agriculture department spokesman, however, claimed that forecasts of the shortage were "overly pessimistic." He said the shortage would not be as severe as the consumer meat famine in the winter of 1944-45 when "the army and navy grabbed up all the available meat."

will take the sub-committee to reach a solution on a matter involving the fate of hundreds of thousands. It is impossible to do it in five or seven days."

Belber proposed that Poland be added as a member of the sub-committee to balance off the Big Four powers represented.

His statements were made at a meeting of the Italian political and territorial commission presided over by Lef Egeland, of South Africa.

Appeal Is Made
Egeland appealed to him to cease his objections and assured him that the seven-day limit which had been set for consideration of the matter was set merely to enable the commission to hear a report in that time on whether the sub-committee agreed or disagreed.

Agreement was reached on Poland's inclusion in the sub-committee.

Hector McNeil, British under-secretary of state for foreign affairs, supported Egeland's proposal and urged deferment of general debate until after the sub-committee's report had been received.

The Yugoslav objection came after it was disclosed peace conference had set October 5 as a date for treaty commencing to finish their work and submit recommendations to a plenary session for final approval.

Deadline Established
The deadline was established in an effort to bring a successful roundup of conference deliberations before mid-October.

There were indications of a concerted effort to storm through all controversial questions and polish off the treaties with the five former Axis satellite nations of Europe in sufficient time for the delegates to proceed to New York to attend the October 10, meeting.

The opinion of delegates was that all must "bury the hatchet" and concentrate on deliberations to speed treaty drafts and clear the way for attendance by chief foreign office representatives at the next meeting of the United Nations general assembly.

It was believed almost definite that the application of Russia, France, China and Belgium for postponement of the U. N. meeting until October 23 will be accepted by the member nations.

Several thousand troops of the British Sixth Airborne division began moving into Tel Aviv, the all-Jewish coastal city, after a strict curfew was imposed in a drive to suppress a new campaign of sabotage by Jewish extremists.

Coinciding with the British military moves to put down the violence members of the Jewish National council, declared their intention to put into operation the first phase of a campaign of non-cooperation with the British and the Palestine government.

The declaration disclosed that the council had allocated $400,000 to aid in "large-scale illegal immigrations" in defiance of the British blockade against unlawful refugees.

The acts of violence carried out by underground resistance forces cost the lives of a British army major and an Arab policeman. The wife of the major, a security officer who died after a bomb attack on his home in Tel Aviv, was wounded.

Police instituted a house-to-house search for those responsible.

Marshal Tito Agrees To Pay

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(INS)—Acting Secretary of State William L. Clayton revealed today that Marshal Tito's Yugoslav government has agreed to pay indemnity for the lives of five fliers shot to their death by fighter planes over Yugoslavia on August 19.

Clayton said that the United States bill for indemnification had recently been submitted to the Belgrade government by Ambassador Richard C. Patterson. Mr. Clayton declined to state the amount asked.

Clayton also told a news conference that the Belgrade government had not yet accepted the principle that it must pay for the loss of two American transport planes shot down on Aug. 9 and 19 respectively.

The two incidents caused a crisis in U. S.-Yugoslav relations a fortnight ago when the state department demanded the release of the passengers on the plane forced down on Aug. 9.

Coroner's Jury To Hear Mashank Facts

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 10.—(INS)—A coroner's jury will conduct an inquiry on Thursday into the death of George Mashank, first assistant United States attorney, who was found dead in a Pittsburgh hotel hallway several weeks ago, it was announced today by the coroner's office.

Mashank was found dead shortly after a scuffle with several hotel guests on August 20. Death was attributed to a brain hemorrhage, but a post mortem examination disclosed that he sustained bruises on the head.

The long awaited rain of city gardeners and farmers of the area arrived on Monday afternoon but the short lived rain hardly lasted long enough to moisten the earth under many of the larger leafed garden plants.

er, who came earlier with two members of the negotiating committee—Charles L. Cole and Edward Collins—had been served with subpoenas, only comment was: "This is what the union has been trying to achieve... to get the real owners of the light company to negotiate and not their office boys. It's a moral victory for the union."

Mueller said he was "happy" over the court order and said he would summon the 19-man strike committee to ask them to call off the walk-out.

Solicitor Anne X. Alperin pleaded the city's case before the court and once abruptly interrupted Judge Smart to remind him that the strike would go into effect in two minutes.

Mayor Is Haggard
After the injunction was signed, Mayor David L. Lawrence, haggard and tired after a week of continuous night and day negotiation sessions, announced that there will be no negotiations today, adding that he hoped to bring the company and union officials together by Wednesday.

Within seconds after Mueller announced the decision to strike in a radio broadcast, Lawrence moved swiftly. He summoned city officials into his office and within a half hour had the machinery grinding which brought at least a temporary halt to the walkout.

Earlier the mayor handed Mueller the company's "outline of arbitration." Mueller presented it to the union policy committee who rejected it by a vote of 41 to 9.

Leo T. Crowley, president of the Standard Gas and Electric Company, parent organization to the Duquesne Light Company, came to Pittsburgh to take part in the dispute. After a two-hour conference with Lawrence Crowley merely reiterated the company's stand to submit the matter to arbitration.

The mayor blasted the "obstinate" stands taken by both the company and the union. He said: "Both parties realize that many points are ridiculous. Neither has nudged an inch on the disputed issues."

Places Responsibility
Mayor William O'Dwyer placed responsibility for continuance of the strike of Local 807 of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, AFL, O'Dwyer said the other two unions involved in the strike had set up wage negotiating committees but that Local 807 which has some 12,000 members had refused to even appoint a negotiating committee.

O'Dwyer said the trucks "would be rolling within an hour" if Local 807 would sit down with the employers.

On short notice, we manufactured battleships, and war munitions, enough to practically whip the world.

Now, we hear the powers that be, talk about priorities and building homes. How are you going to build these homes when you can't get any lumber, nails, or even the little articles that you need in construction of same?

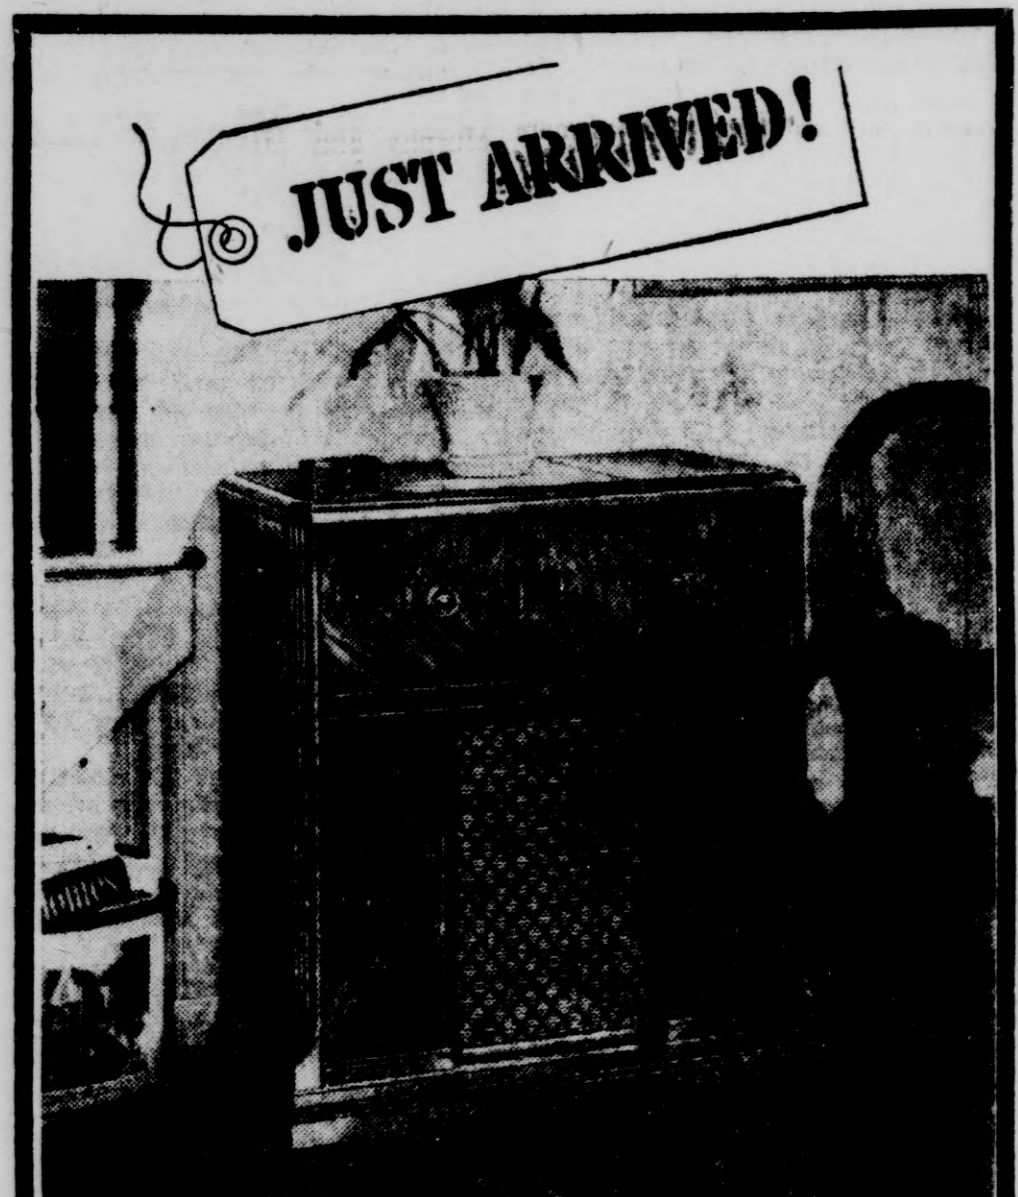

Are we going back, instead of forward, or why this condition? Is War the only thing that we are proficient in? Have we lost all of our peace time ability, or what is the matter?

The Parent Problem

By Gary C. Myers, Ph. D.

CHILD'S ADJUSTMENT TO SCHOOL

Many children are more calm and have better general health while attending school than they have during vacation. There's some value in the day's routine. Most families have a more regular program of meals and the like during school months.

On the other hand, some children, a few weeks after school has opened, grow more excitable and irritable and are harder to get along with.

Not many children are harmed physically and emotionally by the confinement of the classroom. Far more children profit from having to remain fairly still and quiet at school, though there are classrooms which rarely afford much stillness and quietness at any time. While school is rather drab and boring for some children, it may prove over-stimulating for many other children.

Normal Competition

There are the normal competitions of the classroom and playground. A few children may be unhappy, of course, because they are misunderstood by the teacher. Moreover, a few other children suffer from overstrain, which emotionally may cause all sorts of dissonant disturbances. Then there's the child in the early grades or high school who is over-zealous about school marks, and his parents may put too much emphasis on these marks. At the junior and senior high school levels some children enter far too many activities outside the class room. Most parents, instead of helping their children limit these extra-curricular activities to a safe and reasonable number, are inclined to egg on these children.

The parents often are thinking more of what they might brag about to their friends than about the welfare of the child. Besides, many over-ambitious parents will load up their school children, even the youngest ones, with extra lessons in music, art, dancing and the like.

All such may seem to have good value in and of themselves. But of first consideration should be the physical and mental health of the child. What will it profit a child to gain all the useful arts and skills and wisdom of the world and lose his own physical and mental health? What can he give in exchange for good health?

Of course, even so many youths in their early teens go out too much at night and wear themselves out as what they call having a good time. They don't get sleep enough. Far fewer children of school age than most people suppose grow "nervous" over too close application to books or too much helping about the home.

Perhaps the most frequent source of nervous strain in school children grows out of their inability to get along happily with other children. This problem may be with them seven days a week, and not only at school but also on the way to and from school and in the home neighborhood. Parents of babies and young children should take note.

They should begin now to set the stage so their children will become good playmates. My bulletin, "Your Child and His Playmates" may be had in a stamped envelope; also "The Nervous Child" in another such envelope by addressing me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.

If your child has become more excitable and irritable since school began, you should have him carefully checked by your physician. You should look into his program of sleep and recreation, and into his relations with other children. Most of all, you should try to render the family atmosphere more serene and happy.

Just Folks

'OUTA BOUNDS'

I have heard the thousands booing when the umpire calls a strike.

Or he makes a close decision which the local fans don't like. There's a lot of glee derisive in the jeering of the throng.

When a football team is losing to another much too strong. But, there's nothing quite so gleeful in the list of human sounds.

As the caddy's intonation when he's calling: "Outa bounds!"

I have heard it through the springtime and the summer and the fall.

And for absolute derision I would choose that caddy call.

It has bitterness and malice and disgust; and, am I right.

If he doesn't like his player it is filled with pure delight?

He makes up for all he's suffered on a dozen earlier rounds.

As he shouts with inward pleasure, the announcement: "Outa bounds."

There are folks who turn to laughter when a proud man loses a fall.

Let a lady lose her bonnet and it's fun for one and all.

At another man's misfortune many lookers-on will grin.

At the lake there's always laughter when somebody tumbles in.

But for uncontrolled derision, when his golf ball leaves the grounds.

Give me any player's caddy when he's shouting: "Outa bounds!"

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

(Distributed by International News Service)

UN hall, Lake Success (special rates for Fall)—The decision to cancel the atom bomb under-water test was well received here . . . Now we can get out our bathing suits.

I hear President Truman called off the test because he figured the chance of an enemy crawling under the Pacific on hands and knees was remote.

Foreign observers who held tickets for the under-water bomb test can turn them in for an under-water pen demonstration in the YMCA pool.

We have a report here that atomic energy is about ready for industry . . . We are awaiting John L. Lewis' chain reaction.

The report says that if coal goes up another three dollars a ton it will catch up with atomic energy costs . . . O. K. John . . . Take it from here.

The nice thing about atomic energy is that there are no ashes to shovel . . . Of course you may glow in the dark but think of the fun you'd have reading a newspaper by your own light.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

There has been a regular epidemic of stories about dishwashers and beggars and just bums who were found dead in squalid rooms or in doorways or under bridges and on them they had fortunes in bank notes or under their beds the police found a hundred thousand dollars or so wrapped up in old newspapers.

I just read another one of those items, this time about Old Frenchy, a long-time waiter in McSorley's Old Ale House in New York. (Sounds like something out of Dickens, doesn't it?)

This Old Frenchy always carried the financial section of his newspaper in his hip pocket, and the customers used to laugh at him when they saw him reading the stock report.

Well, one day he was found dead in a $13-a-month room on New York's shabby lower East Side, and the police turned over his belongings to the Public Administrator's office.

Among them, that office just disclosed, were stocks and bonds valued at more than $60,000.

No wonder Frenchy was interested in the stock reports!

Whenever I read those stories I always wonder what kind of people they were and what went on in their minds.

Usually they do not leave any kin, and usually they have no friends. I have investigated several of these cases and found that almost every one of those rich paupers was a recluse and had no bad habits.

As an old Chinese philosopher once said (maybe the old Chinese philosopher was me), the value of wealth lies in the enjoyment thereof.

To each of us the enjoyment of wealth means something different.

The World and the Mud Puddles

REGRESSIVE

This nation was developed not by the dependent, but the independent. The pioneers had no guarantee of government backing for their enterprises, whether these enterprises were general stores, farms or factories. Our forefathers grew strong by facing obstacles and overcoming them; life for settlers was anything but soft.

Dr. Karl Bowman, professor of psychiatry at the University of California Medical School, reminds us that a feeling of security is important to a child, but the "iron childhood" on him must be taught, not the mistaken notion that he is secure but how to live in an insecure world. Proper education and training, he says, should "aim to develop personalities capable of dealing with all situations and able to bear stress and strain, rather than to create a social organization which relieves individuals of all necessity for strength of character and feeling of responsibility."

The current philosophy of government responsibility for everything, says Dr. Bowman, and that we have no responsibility either for our own condition or that of our fellow man, is a regressive, rather than a progressive tendency; "a return to a primitive and archaic social organization which will inevitably lead to the same injustice, tyranny and suffering which existed recently in Germany and Italy."

These are sane words. Any person capable of reasoning knows that exchange of independence for dependence leads to loss of liberty and initiative under dictatorship. Mental adults do not demand the security reserved for little children and the mentally deficient. They do not want the state to run their affairs, but to do their part in helping to run the state. There are ominous signs, however, that the monolithic element is gaining a vast number of recruits right along.

U. S. Naval Force To Stay In European Seas Pressure Brings A Speedup In Veteran Housing No Porter-Anderson Feud Is Seen

(Special to Central Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Fleet Adm. William F. Halsey's explosive statement that the United States Navy has the right to keep its men at sea wherever it "damn pleases" is merely an open expression of American policy in the Mediterranean and adjacent seas.

For a long time to come there will be a heavy naval force in the waters guarding Europe's hinter boxes and troubled areas. The American warships, of course, will cooperate with the British and naval quarters on every diplomatic and naval matter agree that when and if permanent peace returns to Europe and the United Nations world police force is an actuality, major fleet units will be withdrawn—but not until then.

The radio protests of Russia are merely stiffening the American determination to use her advantage as the world's greatest naval power to stabilize the world.

The huge new aircraft carrier, U. S. S. Franklin D. Roosevelt, probably will be recalled at the end of her Mediterranean mission, but there are indications she will be replaced by another carrier.

Because the veterans' housing program has lagged far behind schedule, pressure is being applied on every government agency to lend whatever aid it possible in enabling Housing Expediter Wilson P. Wrent to hurdle obstacles in his path.

The pressure is bringing results. The War Assets Administration, for example, has just announced that about 8,000 feet of 12-inch cast iron pipe, vitally needed in the housing program, has been removed from the ground at the Bluebonnet Ordnance plant, McGregor, Tex.

This will be offered for sale "where is, as is," with the understanding that it will be used in construction of housing facilities.

VAA crews worked at top speed unearthing and stacking the pipe so that it could be made quickly available to help break one of the bottlenecks responsible for the housing shortage.

This was an example of how a job was completed when Washington gave orders to "get it done in a hurry."

Government officials who sat in talks between Secretary of Agriculture and Price Administrator Paul Porter aimed at deciding the new meat price ceilings, say privately, that reports of disagreement between the two men were "grossly exaggerated."

One OPA official said that during the conference no one raised the tone of his voice, and that there were no threats on the part of anyone to resign if his wishes were not carried out.

Some newspapermen went out with stories saying that Anderson threatened a revolt and resignation if his views were not followed.

Truth of the squabble was that there were some points of disagreement between Porter and Anderson. Reconversion Director John R. Steelman did step in and try to lend a helping hand. And there the "feud" ended, without having reached a major crisis.

As one OPA man said, referring to the fact that Anderson had final authority on meat prices: "You can't do much arguing when the other fellow has all the authority."

THE ORPHAN-BRIDE

"Neither of my parents is living. Although I come from a large family, the expenses of my forthcoming marriage will be borne mostly by me. I have lived at various times with each of my three sisters, all married. Who should 'give' my wedding—issuing invitations, announcements, acting as hostess at my breakfast, give me away, etc., etc? Also how should the bride party be seated at the wedding breakfast?"

Answer: An orphan-bride usually has her favorite uncle or brother give her away. If she has neither, a good friend of her mother, father or the groom's family may perform this function. Of course, any bride who prefers to do so, may walk unescorted to the altar, although this is one time when a gal usually requires support!

Your sister or her husband, your brother and his wife or an aunt and uncle may issue invitations and announcements, the dining room, done by an older sister, brother or other relative with whom the bride makes her home, who also "gives" the wedding, even though the bride must finance it herself.

Seating guests: Place the bride's table in the most conspicuous spot in the dining room. Or it may very properly be set in a separate room adjoining the dining room so that the wedding party will not appear aloof to the other guests.

Let the wedding cake be a large one with many tiers and place it in the center of the table. Place the bride and groom in the middle on one side of the table with the cake within easy reach of the bride. If the reception takes place in the evening, flank the cake with unshaded candles and vases or bowls of flowers carrying out the color scheme of the wedding.

For World Now To Choose: Atomic Power—Or Bombs

From the moment the Atomic Age burst upon the world, nothing of more profound human importance has been developed than the scientific report, just laid before the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission by Bernard M. Baruch, showing that the industrial use of the atom is not only practicable but imminent.

The industrial atomic age is right here—if the world was it that way. Scientists experienced in the production of atomic bombs state that atomic-electric power plants are feasible, now.

They could be constructed at costs which would make them available even to small nations. They could be operated in deserts or in areas where coal, oil or water power are non-existent or prohibitive and thereby enormously enrich life among underprivileged populations.

Here are facts, qualified only by the need to overcome certain technological problems, none unsurmountable. They draw in sharp lines the issue before mankind: the grand choice to turn the atom to ward peace or the horrible one of using it for war.

Until now the emphasis of the Atomic Age has been upon atomic war. Our Navy has turned to the job of developing warships "for the Atomic Age." That somber fact is a little relieved by President Truman's order deferring the third Bikini bomb test. His decision was proper and welcome.

We know more than enough already of the terrible potentialities for destruction of the atom. It's time we got to work to realize on its possible benefits, which should be illimitable.

This fact, however, comes to the top through the scientific report: widespread industrial use of the atom around the world would have to be attended by a thorough system of control, including inspection to guard against misuse.

If the nations of the earth can come to an agreement on control, the hideous catastrophe of an atomic struggle might well be averted and the way cleared for those nations and their peoples to realize on the glowing promises of peace and prosperity still locked away in the atom.

The wisdom, or lack of it, of leaders and peoples must make the decision. They must choose the greater and more splendid one.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

No Special Session

At his first press conference after his return to Washington President Truman laid the ghost of a special session of Congress this fall. The ghost was never a very lively one. Although Mr. Truman had "warned" Congress that he intended to call it back if the new price program failed to work, no one really expected him to do so. All of the members of the House and a third of the Senators are now working to get themselves re-elected and they would have been fit to be tied if the President had interrupted this absorbing occupation for anything less than a national catastrophe.

Quite apart from this consideration, Mr. Truman has shown good judgment in shelving any possibility of a special session to consider new legislation on either housing or price controls. It would be folly to tinker with the OPA law again during its brief remaining span of life. As for housing, there is less need for more laws than for more building supplies and it is not likely that a special session would improve this situation. In brief, the only valid reason for a special session of Congress would be to pass legislation reducing taxes, and Mr. Truman is opposed to a reduction in taxes.

On other issues discussed at the conference Mr. Truman's comments were not particularly revealing. The country will be interested to note that the trial of nazi industrialists for war crimes is being considered by the Allies and by revelation that discussions on the Palestine report are continuing. It is also perhaps worth noting that the correspondents this time found the President in a jovial mood. He will need both good humor and able counsel to ride out the storms now gathering about him.

Resist Control

William Henry Chamberlin, an American newspaper correspondent, in a survey of Europe was struck by the fact that recovery there is in inverse proportion to the controls maintained by governments. Why this should have proved startling to him is not clear. That is what traditional Americans have expected to find.

Switzerland has least government controls and is the most vital and prosperous of all European nations, he found. France, upon being liberated by America, set out along the control road and is in deplorable condition. Everything is under control and nothing is going right.

Belgium, Chamberlin found, is perhaps midway in recovery between Switzerland and France. Many controls have been relaxed by Belgium and the results are apparent in economic progress. The British, under the Attlee socialist government, are not having much luck in their controls. The first industry marked for government operation—coal mining—is worse off than it has ever been.

Controls may work in Russia and the Balkans because that is all those people have ever known. Their standard of living also has been of the lowest. But resistance to the total authority of government in the free atmosphere of western nations can never be throttled. In this country it is daily becoming stronger. Americans yearn for their former liberty and freedom as never before.

Plenty Of Red Tape

In report number 10, seventy-eighth Congress, of a committee headed by then Senator Truman, this observation was made: "It is the job of government to devise rules of the road, but not to tell the driver where he must travel."

That principle is as sound now as on the day some years ago when it was written. The whole system of democratic government depends upon government being an umpire, not a player in the game. The government devises laws and regulations to prevent dishonesty, misrepresentation, combinations in restraint of trade, and similar practices. Then, within those laws and regulations, the players play the game of business as best they can.

The incredible economic and social progress made by our people since the Revolution is the result of that philosophy. It is the mainstay of open competition. It is the stimulus which drives men to take chances, to develop new products, to go ahead. And, most important, it is the basic guarantee of individual freedom.

It is apparent to anyone that government has moved far away from that principle. Government has made itself player as well as umpire. And enterprise, American enterprise, finds itself chained and frustrated.

The agonizing delays in reconversion to peacetime production are largely the consequence of too much government. Any man who tries to start a business, build a home, or buy a piece of war surplus equipment knows what happens. The red tape is in abundance—and everything else is scarce. When will the American people, for the sake of the future, force a change?

Who Gets The Money?

A representative of the American Society for Russian Relief tried to work on American sympathies in a speech at Portland, Oregon, in which he depicted the mental breakdowns and other types of suffering in that country.

No one knows whether the Russian masses are suffering. No one knows whether this representative of the relief society knew what he was talking about. The "iron curtain" keeps disinterested newspapermen and travelers from getting a peep at conditions in Russia.

No authentic description of conditions in Russia is obtainable under the strict regulations which Stalin has set up. Some observers believe that Stalin does not want the world to know how bad off his people are under the Soviet regime, and for that reason is barring extensive travel in his country.

Before any organization sets out to plead for contributions from Americans for Russian relief, American newspapermen ought to have the right to find out whether help is needed. It is inconsistent to plead for relief and yet deny investigators an opportunity to study the relief situation first-hand.

Under existing conditions, moreover, Americans have no assurance that their money actually will give relief to the Russian people. The Soviet may pocket the money and use it for other purposes.—Richmond Palladium-Item.

Great Britain Takes Lead In Aiding Italy

PARIS, Sept. 10.—(INS)—Great Britain took the lead in encouraging economic recovery of Italy by renouncing reparations.

Addressing the Italian economic council of the Paris peace conference, Britain's spokesman, Glenville Hall, said his government had decided to drop its original 11 billion dollar claim "in belief that lasting peace cannot be achieved without sacrifices."

Editor's note: The British claim originally was introduced in an apparent effort to soften Soviet Russia's demands upon Italy as a means of bringing about quick solution of Trieste, Venezia Giulia and other pending problems.)

Heavy Task Ahead

Hall said his majesty's government wished to show the people of Italy that the United Kingdom is not unmindful of the heavy reconstruction task that lies ahead for Italians. He expressed the hope that those nations unable to follow suit at least would try to strike a true balance between their claims and Italy's capacity to pay.

The Brazilian delegates told the commission they could not submit specific claims lest Italian domestic economy be burdened. He added that Italian assets in Brazil are sufficient to cover Brazil's claims and reserve the right to settle them in direct negotiations.

The Ethiopian delegate, however, reached back into the Italo-Ethiopian war and asked for 730 million dollars in reparations from Italy.

BUY EASY TO CLEAN UTENSILS TO SAVE TIME

No up-to-date homemaker need spend all her time in the kitchen in order to do the three main jobs of food preparation and service, cleaning up, and storing food and equipment.

The right utensils and equipment will speed meal preparations. The way in which work is done can save time and energy.

Manufacturers are becoming aware of the fact that homemakers want labor-saving equipment, things easy to use and easy to clean and those that may have a variety of uses. A utensil that can be used for both cooking and serving is a time and energy saver; that is, if it cleans and handles easily.

Pressure cooking equipment saves hours in meal preparation. There are several makes of pressure saucepans, each with a slightly varying mechanism. The manufacturer's detailed directions for using his type of saucepan should be carefully studied and followed to prevent accidents and to get maximum service from the utensils.

In selecting new utensils, look for rounded edges and smooth, grooveless rims, which are easy to clean. Strainit stoves and flat bottoms about the size of the heating unit of the gas or electric range will give greatest cooking efficiency. There are a variety of materials used in the construction, all of which have important features to consider when buying new kitchen utensils.

Accuses Japs Of Execution Of 5,000 Chinese Prisoners

British Colonel Says 'Japs Slaughtered 5,000 Chinese After Singapore Fell'

TOKYO, Sept. 10. — (INS) — Col. Cyril H. D. Wild of the British army testified today at the Tokyo war crimes trial that the Japanese army executed 5,000 Chinese men within two weeks after the capture of Singapore early in the war.

Violated Neutrality

Wild said that the Japanese violated the neutrality of Siam in December, 1941, in order to gain favorable positions for the attack on the Malay Peninsula.

The British colonel was a wartime prisoner of the Japanese and had also resided in Japan for some time. He gave his testimony in the Japanese language.

The witness said that thousands of Chinese in Malaya were executed despite promises of Japanese General Tomoyuki Yamashita to protect civilians. Yamashita was hanged in Manila early this year for atrocities committed against Filipinos and Americans.

Hurl Bottles, Stones At Husband Who Is Seeking Reconciliation

When a married motorist drove his car up to a home where his estranged wife was residing with his mother-in-law, late last night, instead of being embraced in wide-stretched arms he was met by a shower of milk bottles and stones, according to police.

To escape the barrage he swerved his auto and it struck a ditch and he received a cut above one of his eyes which necessitated surgical treatment.

Police were then notified that a "drunken driver" was operating a car in the vicinity. They investigated, said the man was not drunk and when they learned the cause of the injury, kept hands off, it being a domestic affair.

The man went to the home seeking a reconciliation, he stated.

All Male Residents Of Palestine Town Put Under Arrest

JERUSALEM, Sept. 10. — (INS) — Three thousand British airborne troops today arrested the entire male population, between the ages of 15 and 20, of Ramat Gan, near Tel Aviv, and herded all into barbed wire detention pens.

Only two boxes of illegal pamphlets and some printing machinery were found during an inch-by-inch search of the village.

The secret radio, "Voice of Tel Aviv," told its audience to stand by "for most important instructions." The British sought unsuccessfully to break up the broadcast by "jamming" it.

Earlier, authorities announced arrest of 33 suspected saboteurs. Three were dead and 11 injured in the latest wave of violence, timed to coincide with the opening of the London conference on Palestine.

Declares Meat Shortage Will Not Be So Bad

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(INS) An Agriculture department spokesman said today that the threatened meat shortage will not be as bad as the consumer meat famine during the winter of 1944-45.

The spokesman admitted that there will be a shortage of meat during the next few weeks, but he claimed that supplies will not fall below levels of 1944-45 when "the Army and Navy grabbed up all the available meat."

As the flow of livestock to major markets virtually ceased, the government appeared to be without a concrete plan for averting a meat shortage. In general, officials adopted a "wait and see" attitude and maintained silence on any government formula for heading off shortage.

Price Administrator Paul Porter, meanwhile, refused to discuss his trip to Chicago Friday to confer with meat packing industry representatives. OPA spokesmen quoted Porter as describing the meeting as a "get acquainted" session.

But, the OPA spokesman admitted that the price chief had talked to meat packers about "cooperation" in the restoration of price control, which becomes effective at the retail level today.

New Exhibit For Mosquito Battle

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—(INS) — Among the exhibits prepared today for the National Chemical Exposition, were 1000 mosquitoes, and a quantity of 2-Ethylhexanediol-1.

Attendees at the exposition in Chicago this week will be given an opportunity to coat their hands and arms with the preparation, and thrust them into the mosquito's cage.

They'll withdraw their hands and arms unscathed—the discoverers of 2-Ethylhexanediol-1 maintain.

An average home contains more than 150 mosquitos. In order to fill the demand for the locks, the world produces 50 million of them every year.

Radar Studied For Traffic Lights

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Taking a look into the future, the department of commerce forecast starting developments in the field of communications which may make television a household requirement.

An article in the department's monthly publication, Domestic Commerce, also held forth the following devices which may soon be part of the nation's daily living:

Radar-controlled traffic lights to ease the flow of automobile traffic.

A radar device for camera enthusiasts which will determine the distance of the camera from the object.

Direct dialing of long distance calls on telephones, including their automatic recording and metering.

Telephone service in automobiles—now in operation in one city—and in trucks, buses, taxicabs, motorcycles and airplanes.

The article said that there were now six television stations in this country, 25 under construction, and 50 applications have been filed with the U. S. Federal Communications commission. Another 50 applications are being prepared.

Thirty-Nine Fined For Littering Streets

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 10.—Thirty-nine householders paid fines totaling $194 as Magistrate Keller H. Gilbert, in charge of the city's "trash court," began his fall campaign against residents accused of improperly dumping their rubbish, which in many cases litters the city streets.

Gilbert, who instituted the court in June, 1943, discharged 23 other persons, continued nine other cases for further investigation and said that warrants would be sworn out for 19 alleged violators who failed to appear at yesterday's hearing, held at the 32d Street and Woodland Avenue police station.

All of those who were fined were first offenders. The maximum fine of $9 was levied against two, while most of the remainder were assessed $5 each.

Adhering to his custom, Gilbert lectured the group en masse at the start of the hearing on the proper methods of preparing and setting out rubbish at the curbline. He stressed the best way to "defeat scavengers, who will often litter your streets, is to put out your trash in the morning, as near as possible to the time of the rubbish men's arrival."

The magistrate also pointed out that householders are liable to fines if they fail to tie up bundles or cover containers, even if street littering does not result from that failure.

The next hearing will be held Sept. 23, he announced.

Six Million Raised To Aid Churches

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 10.—The Restoration Fund commission of the Presbyterian church in the U. S. A. has announced that $6,538,319 has been raised toward the $27,000,000 goal of the restoration fund, for the relief and rehabilitation of European and Asiatic churches damaged or destroyed during the war.

The figures were released by Harold A. Dalzell, executive director of the commission, who spoke at a two-day annual Birmingham conference of chairmen of the standing committees of the Synod of Pennsylvania, at Birmingham, Pa. Other speakers were Donald B. Cahoon, of Scranton, and Rev. Arthur M. Hughes, pastor of the West Side Presbyterian church, Ridgewood, N. J.

Veterans' Bodies Will Reach State Late This Year

Philadelphia Has Been Selected As Disembarkation Point For Six-State Area

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 10.—Philadelphia has been selected as a disembarkation point for a six-state area in the return of bodies of deceased American soldiers from foreign battlefields.

The port will serve as a major distribution point in the repatriation program for the Second World War dead from Pennsylvania, Southern New Jersey, Maryland, West Virginia, Delaware and the District of Columbia.

Mortuary At Depot
Colonel Turner R. Sharp, commanding officer of the Philadelphia Quartermaster depot, said yesterday that extensive arrangements were being made here for the transfer, expected to begin late this year.

A mortuary is being erected at the depot for the storage of coffins and it is expected that a special canal will be completed for the use of the next-of-kin of the way dead.

Co-operation Sought
Colonel Sharp emphasized the importance of co-operation by families of the men slain in the Second World War in view of the immense task of restoring the fallen heroes to graves in their native soil.

He said letters would be dispatched to next-of-kin, giving details of the plan, as soon as it is ready to be placed in operation. Colonel Sharp asked that all letters be answered promptly to speed the work of repatriation.

Addresses Important
All changes in address by the families of the Second World War victims should be reported to proper military authorities, Colonel Sharp said.

He listed these as:
Army personnel, Office of the Quartermaster General, Memorial Division; Navy personnel, Bureau of Medicine and Surgery, Navy Department; Marine corps personnel, Marine Corps Casualty Section, Navy Department; Coast Guard personnel, Commandant, U. S. Coast Guard Casualty Section.

Information Center
All are in Washington, D. C. The Philadelphia Quartermaster depot, Colonel Sharp said, will offer its full co-operation to next-of-kin in obtaining information concerning the repatriation program.

'G. I. Joe' May Find Himself Eating Fish

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(INS)—The quartermaster general reported today that G. I. Joe may find himself eating fish instead of pork chops because of increased meat prices and the stoppage of overseas shipments caused by the maritime strike.

Meat purchase in the Army plummeted from fifty-eight million pounds in April to twenty-two million 500 thousand in June and only fifteen million 400 thousand pounds in July because of prices above the maximum levels set by the office of the quartermaster general.

The quartermaster corps added that the complication caused by the maritime strike might further cut meat available to the Army. A QM memorandum said there was enough meat in storage and transit to meet normal September needs, but it concluded.

Unless the meat situation improves shortly the Army will be forced to the greater use of substitutes such as fish and fowl.

The Army said the potential shortage will be felt in the Pacific before it affects the European theater because of the great refrigeration problems there.

Increased prices also made for a shortage of butter in the Army. The QM reported that while the year's requirements of thirty-two million pounds normally were purchased in the peak months of May and June, it was possible to procure only 17,912,526 pounds in these two months and 4,074,907 pounds in July.

COURT SESSION IS OPEN AT MERCER

MERCER, Sept. 10.—Court for the trial of cases reported by the grand jury which was in session during the past week opened Monday with Judge George H. Rowley, presiding. The first case called for trial was that of C. C. Myers of Stoneboro charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

When court convened District Attorney Edwin C. Moon announced that he had received seven pleas of guilty, two cases continued and two settled reducing the list of 14 cases for trial which may be further reduced by pleas of guilty.

Highway Project In McKeesport Area

HARRISBURG, Sept. 10.—(INS)—A $4,687,000 highway improvement project in the Glassport-McKeesport area had the approval today of the Public Utility Commission in a 200-page order.

Approximately $4,251,000 of the construction cost was saddled on Allegheny county, while the balance was to be paid by various public utilities, according to the commission.

The improvements will include a $2,321,800 bridge to replace Monongahela river bridge No. 3 connecting Dravosburg with McKeesport. The new span will be located farther upstream between Dravosburg and a point on the McKeesport-Glassport line, the P. U. C. reported.

Slated to be financed by the county, it will carry traffic above two tracks of the Pittsburgh, McKeesport and Youghiogheny Railroad company between McKeesport and Glassport and Washington street, and two tracks of the Pittsburgh, Virginia and Charleston Railways company in Dravosburg, the commission reported.

Slight Interest Shown In Election By Service Men

HARRISBURG, Sept. 10.—(INS)—Auditor General G. Harold Wagner's report of G. I. ballot expenses incurred by 42 counties in the primary election May 21 disclosed today that only slight interest in politics was shown by servicemen and women.

Wagner said the counties claiming reimbursements had expended $22,893.11 to mail 5794 G. I. ballots but that commonwealth payments were limited to 40 cents for each ballot. Reimbursements amounted to $2276.40, he added.

Cost per ballot ranged from 40 cents for one in Somerset county to $179.68 for two in Jefferson county.

Counties which listed high ballot costs included Sullivan, one ballot, $86; Philadelphia, 130 ballots at $44.51 per ballot, $5786.76; Lebanon, 11 ballots, $357.73; Lycoming, 13 ballots, $407.55.

In Allegheny county, Wagner said, the cost of preparing and mailing 4,235 ballots totaled $1,888.31, or slightly more than 44 cents per ballot.

Do You Want Capable, Economical and Businesslike Government?

The responsibility for good, honest and efficient government attuned to the welfare of the many instead of the selfish, shortsighted interests of the few, rests on us, the voters, because government officials, capable or incapable, good or bad, can only enter office by means of votes—and no other way!

BLOOD, SWEAT AND TEARS

and billions of dollars were expended for our freedom! Let's guard it diligently—not, we hope, with our blood—or sweat—or tears, but, without cost and without price, by taking time to learn what candidates are concerned with the general good rather than the good of their group, that they qualify in intelligence and ability for the office they seek, then see that we, our children, our friends and everyone are registered, eligible to vote—and then—vote!

Stop Shipments To Yugoslavia Urged

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(INS)—Sen. Bridges (R-N.H., Monday) asked Undersecretary of State Dean Acheson to stop shipment of all American goods to Yugoslavia.

In a telegram to Acheson, Bridges complained specifically about shipment of nearly 11,000 tons of railroad building supplies, which he accused UNRRA officials of diverting to Yugoslavia after they were procured for China.

The State Department, however, defended the action.

Bridges demanded that UNRRA goods earmarked for Marshal Tito's country be frozen in American ports. He said the rails are on a ship still in port at Hoboken, Bridges declared.

"Such action is within the authority of United States," Contending that non-UNRRA goods can be stopped by direct action, Bridges asserted.

"I believe the situation brought about by Yugoslavia warrants no less than immediate action to stop the sending of vital American supplies and equipment."

The senator said Yugoslavia is "standing in the way of world peace." He noted that her "last overt act was to shoot down five American fliers in cold blood."

State Health Exams Will Begin Monday

Mahoning School Pupils In Grades 1, 3, 5, 7 And 9 Will Be Given Health Exams

Announcement was made today by Fred McLure, principal of the Mahoning grade and junior high school, that medical examinations will begin Monday morning, Sept. 16, in the Mahoning grade and junior high school.

The physical check-ups, which are a part of the program of the Pennsylvania Department of Health, will be confined this year to the first, third, fifth, seventh and ninth grades of the school.

These examinations, which will get under way next week, will continue every morning until the pupils of the grades above are all examined, and then the doctors will move on to another school in the city.

Under the present setup it is anticipated that four pupils will be examined every hour by the two physicians, Dr. T. M. Shaffer and Dr. H. C. Mitchell.

Each pupil that is to be examined will be given a definite appointment as to the day and hour he or she will be examined and will be requested to take the appointment slip home to their parents, in order that the father or mother of the child may be at the school when the examination is taking place. This is being done so that the parents can discuss with the physician remedial steps in the health of their child if such steps are necessary.

Repairing Portion Of Skating Pond

A large bull dozer was busily engaged Monday afternoon on a job that will be appreciated during the winter months by the younger members of the Seventh Ward and other residents of the city.

According to Cecil Suter, member of the Mayor's Recreation Committee, the North East corner of the skating pond was a "little low" and the bull dozer is remedying the condition.

The work is being done under the supervision of Joe Frenzel, sub-chairman of the committee.

TWO TURKISH PLANES ARE REPORTED LOST

LONDON, Sept. 10.—(INS)—The Daily Mail reported from Istanbul today that two Turkish military planes, reconnoitering over the eastern provinces of Turkey, have been lost. They were last seen over the Turkish-Soviet frontier.

Councilmen in one-fifth of the cities of 5,000 or more population in the U. S. serve without pay.

Britain Ready To Start Action Against Squatters

LONDON, Sept. 10.—(INS)—Health Minister Aneurin Bevan refused to meet with a deputation of Communists today as the British government prepared to take action against "squatters," believed to be backed by Communist factions, who have seized private property in London.

Bevan curtly told the deputation that his refusal was in line with "cabinet policy." Despite this setback, Communists leaders were reported to be "reconnoitering" for new places for the "homeless" to raid.

One Kensington residence was taken over this morning by the property raiders despite the strong evidence that the government plans drastic action.

Expect Government Order
Official sources said that a government order is expected to halt an expected large-scale grab of property in the London provinces this weekend by so-called "homeless."

It was revealed that the government is planning on issuing an order explaining its policy in prohibiting the seizure of private property by those who claim to be "homeless." It was also disclosed that some are being taken to recover property already seized by the forces of persons who have taken over homes and government property on the grounds they cannot find a place to live.

One government official said it was fully realized that the organized squatting is being carried on by Communist elements and that this constitutes "a sinister political challenge."

The London Daily Mail said the government realizes it is not facing "just house-hunger of poor people but a political menace that they will have to make clear they will not tolerate."

Three Brothers In Military Service

Although most of the numerous brothers that served simultaneously in the armed forces during the late war have been released to civilian duty, the three Hawk brothers, Donald, Raymond and Norman of Sycamore street are still in the service of their country.

Donald Hawk has just enlisted and has spent the past two weeks at Fort McClellan, Ala.

Raymond Paul Hawk enlisted in the U. S. marines for a two-year term of duty last September.

His brother, P. C. Norman Hawk is stationed at Seoul, Korea, where he is serving with the military police. He has been in the service for 14 months and is a former Pennsylvania railroad fireman.

Woman Hunted In 27 States Finally Walks Into Arrest

Vernice Charla, 50, Has Used 90 Aliases, Wanted On Many Charges

DOVER, N. H., Sept. 10.—(INS)—Authorities said today curiosity over her parentage led to the arrest of Vernice Charla, 50, rated as "female public enemy number 1" by the FBI.

Police said she is wanted in 27 states on bad check charges. Her capture came after she was recognized by Mrs. Ethel G. Waldron, registrar of probate, from a description listed in an FBI bulletin.

Served Many Terms
Officials said the crime record of the "female public enemy number 1" extends back 20 years. They alleged she has used 90 aliases.

Police Chief Andrew H. McDaniel said the woman was a native of Dover and curiosity over her parents brought her back here. McDaniel said she has served prison terms in Texas, Ohio, West Virginia and Colorado, and is wanted in a score of other states.

Britain Must Halt Violence In Palestine

LONDON, Sept. 10.—(INS)—Prime Minister Clement R. Attlee declared at the opening of the Palestine roundtable conference in London today that Britain cannot permit continued violence by Jewish extremists in the Holy Land.

He declared at the same time that he is convinced a solution of the entire Palestine problem can be found.

He said emphatically that the British government deplored the state of unrest and disturbance in Palestine resulting from actions of Jewish extremists.

Opens Despite Boycott
He defined the Palestine issue as an "intractable problem" as he opened the parley in Lancaster House before representatives of the Arab states.

The conference was inaugurated despite the boycott by the Palestine Arab higher committee and the Jewish agency for Palestine, as well as independent Jewish representatives who were invited.

Attlee said that with the application of good will and realism he believed an understanding on the entire problem could be reached.

He declared that although discussion of the British plan, calling for partition of Palestine into federated Jewish and Arab states with a separate segment of British rule, will be the first item on the agenda the British have not made up their mind in advance.

Attlee promised that the discussions would be open and that any delegation could submit amendments or even a new plan.

Strong Backing For U. S. Policy On Germany Is Urged

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(INS)—Sen. Stewart (D., Tenn.) urged today that the administration back up its policy on Germany as outlined by Secretary of State James F. Byrnes with as strong a hand as necessary.

Stewart, member of the Senate Military Affairs committee, said: "The world is getting pretty tired of Russia's hostile attitude."

"I don't believe in Milquetoast diplomacy or weasel words. We should back up what we say, or we shouldn't say it."

Stewart termed the policy stated by Byrnes as "eminently correct and well-timed."

The Senator struck at what he termed expansionist ambitions by Russia. He said that he agrees that the United States should undertake to get cooperation of other victors in setting up a Democratic government for Germany. He added:

"If Russia refuses to cooperate, we should try to find some means to force cooperation upon her. For one thing, he said, the United States and Britain, if they go along with the American plan, could encourage Germans from the Russian area to come into the western zones and re-establish themselves if Russia refuses to cooperate."

Embassy Employee In Belgrade Is Given Sentence

Convicted Of Killing Yugoslav Officer And Injuring By-Stander In Jeep Accident

BELGRADE, Sept. 10.—(INS)—William Wedge of Newton, Mass., an employee of the United States embassy in Belgrade, today was under sentence of eight years in prison after conviction on charges of killing a Yugoslav officer and injuring a bystander in a jeep accident.

Wedge also was subject to payment of an $80,000 indemnity to the victims of the accident.

U. S. officials conceded Wedge's guilt, which was accentuated by a charge of drunkenness, but they said they thought the sentence was excessive. Moderate Yugoslav legal opinion agreed with them in view of the fact that a chauffeur in a recent accident in which four persons were killed and several injured received only two years.

Wedge, a veteran of the 88th division, was defended by a lawyer selected by the U. S. embassy. Wedge was a night watchman in the embassy.

Cautious embassy officials said they believed that the sentence was colored by the recent diplomatic strain between the U. S. and Yugoslavia and by the U. S. claim for indemnity for the shooting down of U. S. fliers over Yugoslavia.

HEAT with GAS

HEAT with GAS

What does it take to run a baby?

Plenty—and plenty of electricity, too. A hungry young citizen needs food—lots of it—often. That food needs preparation—refrigeration—reheating.

Baby needs hot water—lots of it—often.

So does his wardrobe. And because Mother worries about germs, she boils practically everything but Baby himself.

Clocks must be dependable when there's a baby in the house. Lights must go on—quick—when he cries out in his sleep.

Rooms must be kept warm—the list is endless.

Today's mothers are luckier than those of 20 years ago.

With electricity ready at all times—in any quantity—to help with the household chores, mothers have more time to enjoy their youngsters.

Never before has electricity done so many tasks for so little cost. Actually, the average family today gets twice as much electricity for its money as it did 20 years ago.

Your friends and neighbors in this company—and your own increased usage—helped make that possible.

Judge Rules Taverns Must Close Near Fair

LISBON, Sept. 10.—Judge Josi H. Sharp denied eight local tavern owners a temporary restraining order filed against state, county and township enforcement authorities which would have permitted them to remain open during the Columbiana County Fair which opens today.

Local Sergeant Personally Meets Secretary Of War

Sergeant Anthony Cisco, Route 4, New Castle, Pa., received an unexpected thrill recently at the San Francisco port of embarkation where he was waiting to be sent to his separation center.

The young New Castle soldier, who had just come home after 18 months in Korea, met and shook hands with Robert P. Patterson, secretary of war.

Sergeant Cisco was sitting at a table at the San Francisco port of embarkation's disposition center enjoying a coke with friends when Secretary Patterson and his party walked through the room.

The secretary of war smiled pleasantly and asked Sergeant Cisco about his experiences in Korea. Mr. Patterson shook hands with the New Castle soldier, bade him good luck and resumed his inspection tour of the installation.

The secretary of war came to San Francisco by plane for a two-day visit. He was accompanied by Major General Norman T. Kirk, Army surgeon general; Brigadier General Paul Yount, assistant chief of transportation; Colonel A. Robert Ginsburgh, assistant to the secretary, and Lt. Col. John K. Religious Education Week Given Support Of President Truman CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—Declaring that "democracy dare not neglect the religious nurture of its children, youth and adults," President Harry S. Truman gave his endorsement to the 16th annual Religious Education Week, Sept. 29-Oct. 6, in a letter from the White House released today by Dr. Roy G. Ross, general secretary, International Council of Religious Education, sponsor of the observance.

Emphasizing his belief in the basic importance for democracy of religious education, President Truman declared that "we are learning day by day that peace imposes responsibilities not less arduous than the tasks of active warfare."

"Of one thing we are certain and that is that we cannot build an enduring peace structure unless we build it upon Christian principles. Religious instruction inculcates belief in the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man," he asserted.

"These basic religious concepts are not intuitive; they must be learned; to be learned they must be taught," President Truman pointed out. "Unless they are learned the structure of democracy will crumble for want of moral cement; progress of democracy will halt for lack of spiritual dynamic."

BABY'S EDUCATION

When baby comes into the home his education begins. He has many teachers. Some of them teach him on purpose and others do not know that they are teaching him.

Some of the things which he learns are helpful to him and some are harmful. His education is likely to be rather expensive. Some of the expenses are expected and anticipated, others are largely incidental or accidental, especially the latter.

Baby will probably spill lots of milk. He will perhaps smear some of his food on his face and hands and on the surrounding landscape. He will probably break some dishes and later damage some furniture and carpet.

Later he may turn his attention to watches or clocks or perhaps autos.

He may have some expensive experiences or accidents. Dad and Mom should not get too much excited about these experiences. They are part of baby's education. Sometimes other people learn a few things too.

Best Measuring Laboratory Found At Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 10.—The Franklin Arsenal let it be known yesterday that it has the world's best hair-splitter.

More accurately, it has the best equipped measuring laboratory anywhere—a palace of precision that can check the size of a hair, measuring about three one-thousandths of an inch, or a bullet down to the last one-millionth of an inch.

Gets Reich Equipment

To its stock of the best American measuring devices, the Arsenal now has added the very finest of captured German equipment, the Army Ordnance department explained.

Most familiar of the Arsenal's measuring gadgets are the gage blocks, rectangular chunks of ball-bearing steel, their opposite ends finished off in flatness, parallelism and size to tolerances of a few millionths of an inch. (Try that on your ruler!)

"Interference Fringes" To measure the gage blocks, the Arsenal uses interferometers. These are instruments that show you how jaggedly rough the world's most highly polished surfaces can be.

An interferometer takes a beam of light from the flow of electrons through a glass tube filled with helium or krypton gas, reflecting the light from the surface being measured. It produces interference fringes, which show the irregularities of the surface as the lines on a contour map show hills and valleys.

And then, so they'll know what they're seeing when the interferometer is turned on, the Arsenal experts view the fringes through a special microscope that makes discrepancies of one-millionth of an inch stand out like the crack between a schoolboy's front teeth.

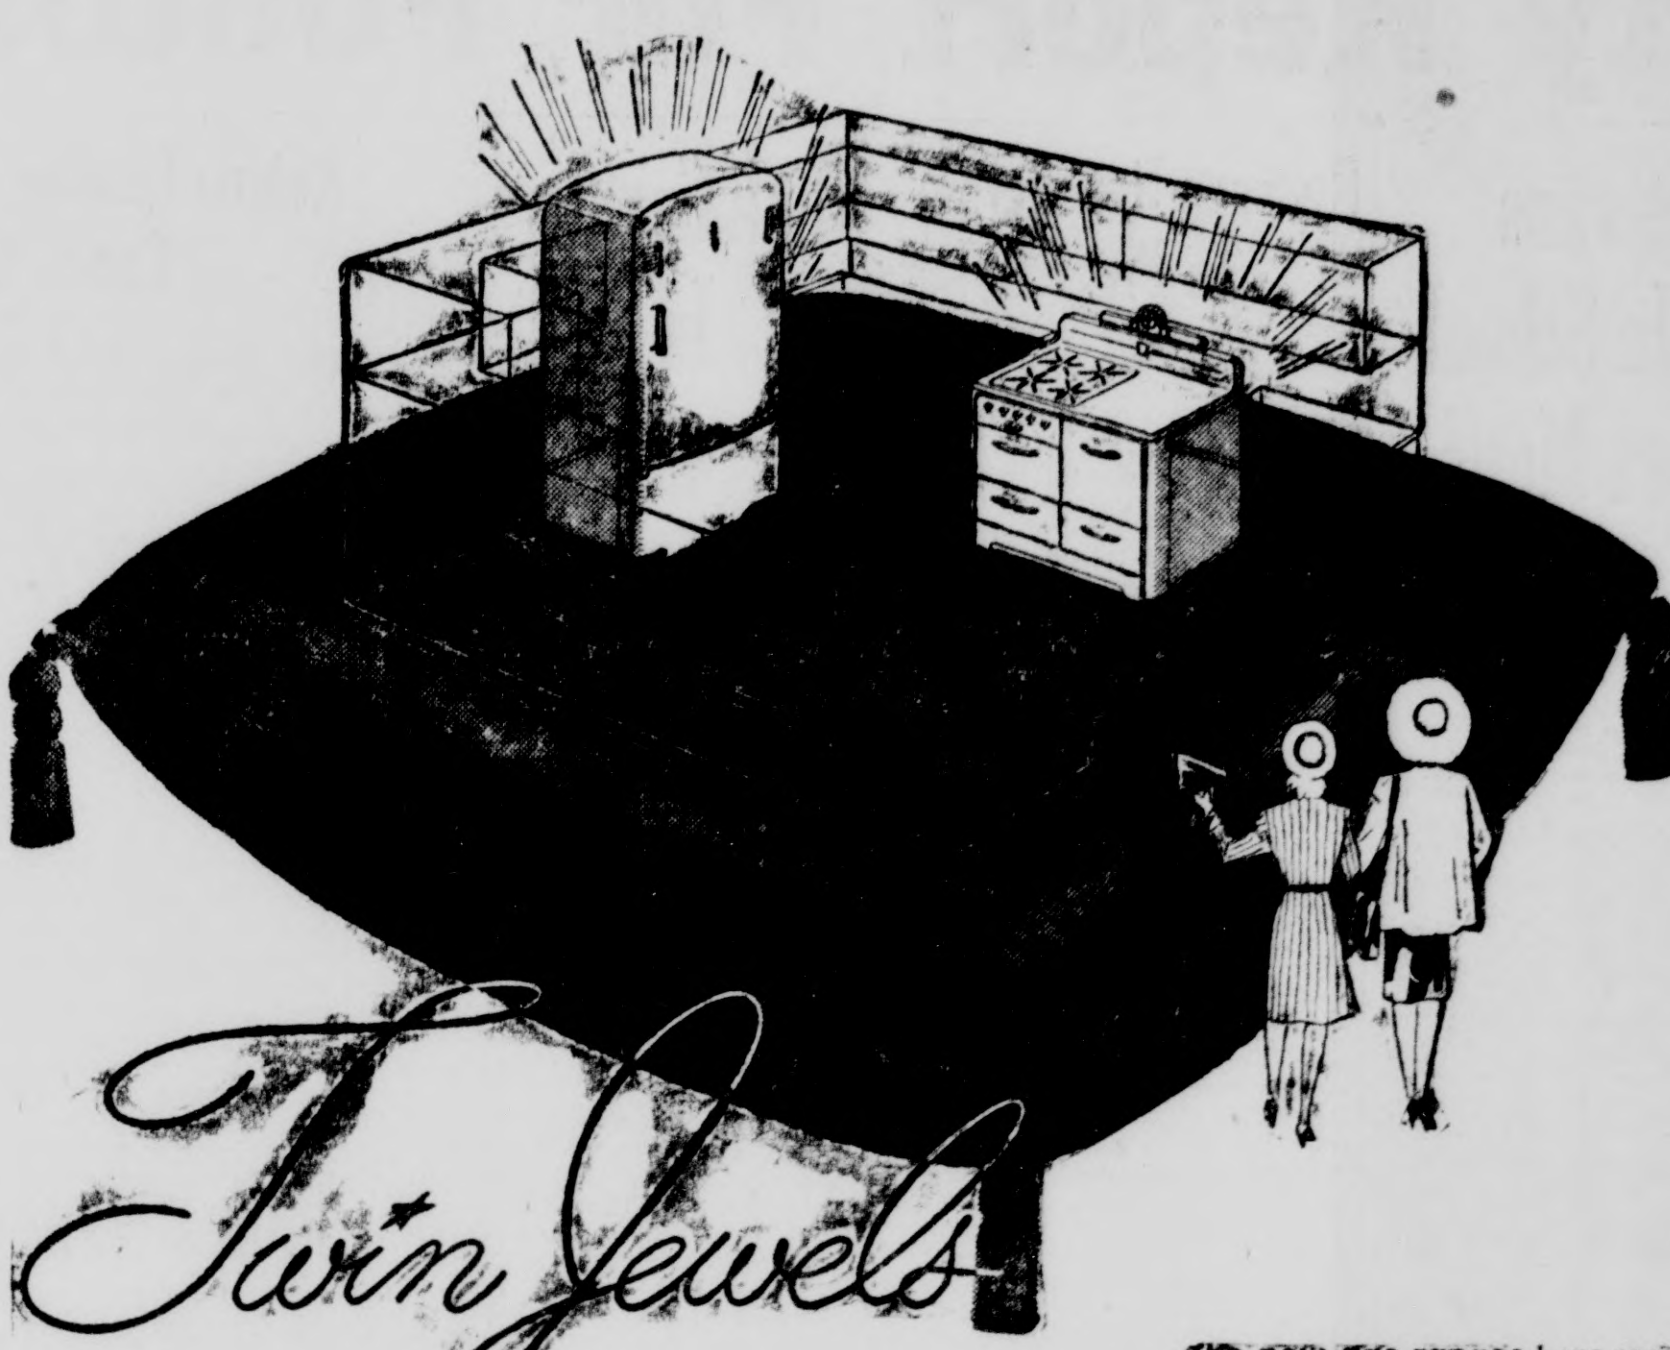

Almost 7,500 varieties of apples are grown in the U. S.

With college not scheduled to open until October 2, Hetzler and his aides, Grover C. Washburn and Harold Barry, will have three weeks to get the squad ready.

The heavy practice routine will be topped off with night chuk talks. The men are eating in Brown Hall and are housed in Jeffers Hall which has been changed from a girls' dorm to a boys' dorm.

Penn State will operate again this fall under an all-alumni football coaching staff.

Roussos Returns To Pitt Panthers

Big "Mike" Roussos, former New Castle High star tackle and a member of the Pitt Panther eleven for two years, has returned to Pitt and is out for a position on the Wesley Fesler coached eleven. It was announced at the University of Pittsburgh today.

Roussos had decided at the end of the 1945 season to call off his football career but has changed his mind and will now try for a varsity job with the "Cats," making seven New Castle boys aspiring for Pitt jobs—William McPeak, Bobby Lee, Lindy Lauro, Tony Razzano, Sam Haddad, Denver Newman and Roussos.

Snead Heads For Nashville Tourney

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—(INS)—Sam Snead, winner of the $10,000 golf "world series" at Tam O'Shanter Sunday, will compete in the next event on the Professional Golfers' Association tournament schedule, the Nashville, Tenn., invitational.

Two of Snead's three opponents in the "world series," All-American winner Herman Barron and U. S. Open Conqueror Lloyd Manerum, will also compete in the Nashville event, which starts next Thursday and runs through Sunday at the Richland Golf Club course.

Cecil Smith Is New Polo Star

WESTBURY, N. Y., Sept. 10.—(INS)—Cecil Smith, Texas veteran, was acclaimed today as the new Tommy Hitchcock of polo.

Four others, the Gracidas, comprised the Mexican team. They were fast but lacked the experience of the Americans.

High Gridders In Light Drill

Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh Sends New Castle Through Drill For Butler Game

Due to the intense heat Monday Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh of New Castle High gave his football charges a light drill, consisting of kicking, passing and signal drill and called it a day. New Castle is getting ready to battle Butler in a Class AA test at the stadium Friday night.

New Castle looked good last week winning the opener from the Erie East team 20 to 0. There was a usual opening night nervousness and a few departments need brushing up, but in general the belief is that New Castle will make a good showing this season with its tough card.

No Lineup Changes

There were no serious injuries in the East game, the squad is in good shape for the battle with Butler. No changes in the starting lineup have been announced by "Phil the Fox" for this week.

Butler High won the opening game last week defeating Kittanning High 14 to 0 with a show of power. Butler has a fairly big team this year and with Coach Silyander back expect to give New Castle quite a tussle.

Munger Sees Penn With Powerhouse

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 10.—(INS)—Penn's George Munger talked something like a Hollywood press agent Monday with words like "magnificent" and "excellent" being given out with reckless abandon as he spoke of his team's prospects.

His traditional crying towel has been trampled over by some 63 candidates for the 1946 Red and Blue eleven, and the only manpower problem he has now is finding out which ones he wants.

Munger has moved his aggregation to Hershey, Pa., to begin practice sessions for Penn's 70th grid season. It will be Munger's eighth year, and he can count on many of the veterans from last year's squad which lost only to Army and Navy, to be back in harness.

Carries Photo Of Sines And 'Muskie'

August edition of the Pennsylvania Angler has a front cover with a photograph of Wavie Sines of this city and the 35-pound Muskie he caught on a pier in Conneaut Lake last year. It was one of the largest muskies taken from the lake in some years.

DETROIT, Sept. 10.—(INS)—A George Trautman, general manager of the Detroit Tigers, said today he saw nothing "new or news" in Bing Crosby's endorsement of a third major league.

Trautman commented that apparently Crosby has added his "voice" to the familiar Pacific coast chorus for major league status. The Tiger chief, a former president of the American Association, said he wonders how a third league could be established without injuring AA league cities not included in the new setup.

Fine Matches Played Monday On Front Nine, Leroy Todd Is Medalist With 39

Those persistent Robins, first half champs in the American Can company golf league last night took over the leadership in the loop in matches played at Castle Hills by defeating the Sparrows and led the red-hot Hawks 54 to 53½. The league will end next Monday.

The Owls gave the Hawks a showing around last night plenty. Captain Billy Ellis defeating Lloyd Harris 3 and 1 and "Ace" Rowe defeating "Hotshot" Williams with "Bangle" Schenfield defeating "Canco Kid" Guido. Another nice match was Leroy Todd, medalist for the night, with a sparkling 39 defeating "Fireman" Murphy. Low scores other than Todd's were Al "Sureshot" Ellis, Ace Rowe and Williams with 40's.

The standing of the league: Robins 54½, Hawks 53½, Owls 40, Sparrows 32.

Indies-Wampum Play Tonight

Second Game Of City-County Title Series At E.A.A. Field This Evening

Tonight at the E. & A. field in Mahoningtown, the Lawrence Indies will battle Wampum in the second game of the current five-game series for the city-county title. The game will start at 5:30 o'clock (weather permitting).

The Lawrence Indies, the city league champions by virtue of having defeated the Universals in a seven-game series, are the favorites tonight over the Wampum Legion. The Lawrence county champs due to their fine showing last Sunday when they upset the Wampums 4 to 2 with Michaloko pitching a tw-hitter.

Russu Goes Tonight

Manager Boss Zidow of the ram-paging Indies has selected the veteran Johnny Russu to do his pitching tonight and the Wampum team will counter with Manager Bud Wardman, no doubt.

Russu and Michaloko divided the pitching honors in the recent Universals series, each winning two games. Zidow also has Nickum and Savage ready for mound duty tonight, if needed.

In the event of a night night another record breaking crowd will no doubt see the contest. The series is the best out of five.

ROBINSON VS. HARRIS

Sugar Ray Robinson and Ossie Harris will box 10 rounds October 1 at Pittsburgh when the Dapper Dan club holds its annual boxing show.

DETROIT, Sept. 10.—(INS)—A

George Trautman, general manager of the Detroit Tigers, said today he saw nothing "new or news" in Bing Crosby's endorsement of a third major league.

Trautman commented that apparently Crosby has added his "voice" to the familiar Pacific coast chorus for major league status. The Tiger chief, a former president of the American Association, said he wonders how a third league could be established without injuring AA league cities not included in the new setup.

Bill Jolly, former local promoter of professional boxing, stated Monday he intends to be in New York City this week and while there hopes to confer with managers of prominent pro fighters, to be ready, he explained, with some good matches should his desire to return to promoting become more than an itch. Not so long ago he paged New York for the service of Rocky Graziano but was informed by the 20th Century club that Rocky was slated to box Tony Zale, hence Bill's effort was dissipated. If Jolly does return to promoting his chief difficulty will be to land a place of sufficient seating capacity to hold a paying crowd. The overhead, plus the cost of really good pros nowadays, is a headache. There will not be any amateur boxing in the Allegheny Mountain Association, A. A. U., for several weeks because the officials propose to conduct an inquiry into the status of affiliates with amateur boxing. As yet it is not known where boxing will be conducted in Youngstown this winter. Next bout in which Joe Louis will defend his crown will be against Tami Mauriella in New York, September 18.

Senior High Floor Coach

William Douglas

Snapped by a New Castle News

photographer shortly after he arrived in New Castle recently to take up his duties as New Castle High head basketball coach and football coach at George Washington Junior High is William "Bill" Douglas, former basketball star at Westminster college, and until recently head floor coach at Greensburg High.

Douglas played on one of John Lawler's great basketball teams at Westminster, being recognized as one of the finest collegiate players in the district. He has had excellent success at Greensburg High, winning five sectional titles in seven years of coaching.

Experienced Coach Douglas has had grid coaching experience also at Greensburg as an assistant and junior high mentor and will make a valuable man for Washington High in football.

Come November and Douglas with his assistant, Clark McClelland, will start grooming New Castle High for its party into the tough Section Three W. P. I. A. L. race. Douglas is succeeding Phil Beldenbaugh, who will devote his entire time to football. He is married and with his wife and child has taken up residence on Hillcrest avenue. He is teaching at senior high.

ERIE—All-star, All-American, all-league teams have been selected but here's one to stop selections. Members of the Erie Sailors team of the Middle Atlantic league elected what they called the "homeliest team."

They are Capt. Carey Middlecoff, the army dentist who almost put his eye out with another man's tooth, and Howard Everett, the alternate from Philadelphia who sort of go into the tournament on a pass.

Two Break Record A non-qualifier from his district, Everett advanced to belated eligibility only because another Philadelphia withdrew—and forthwith snout a course record 34-34—68 to the Middlecoff for overnight domination of the 36-hole test.

Their 18's left them a one-stroke jump in front of trans-Mississippi champion Skee Riegle, two in front of the 70's duly presented by Public Links Champion Smiley Quick and Kansas City's Tom Stephenson. And three beyond the earnest 71 posted for ex-national champion Dick Chapman—a strangely assorted group.

Umpires Will Meet Tonight

Dal Hartman, head of the Lawrence County Umpires' association, has called an important meeting of the umpires for tonight at the "Y" at 8:15 o'clock with all members urged to attend.

Win Over Tigers Will Make Bosox American League Champions

(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Today may be the day when the Boston Red Sox qualify for the world series.

If they beat the Tigers in Detroit—but every day this week will be a world series day in Brooklyn, where the temperature of the populace is running up faster than sugar, and cigars are running out.

Pending the crucial three-game super-series starting with the Cardinals on Thursday, the flatbush fans will cheer themselves hoarse trying to root their beloved Bums home against the Reds today and tomorrow.

Durocher Confident Manager Leo Durocher of the Dodgers today summed up Brooklyn's chances of winning the National League with a few thousand well-chosen words. He said in part:

"I see no reason why we shouldn't do it. The players are hustling and they are confident they can win. I figure the Cardinals are only one game ahead. They have played two more games than we have and have a one-game edge over us in the loss column. That's where it counts."

The Cards have proved a good road club, but I think they are going to have trouble now that they have left St. Louis. St. Louis plays the Giants and Braves when they leave Brooklyn, and they're tough clubs to beat on their home fields."

Giants Lose To Phils "Till settle for two wins over the Cards in Brooklyn, but if we should sweep the series, I don't think anything will stop us."

The Cards stacked up against the Phils today and tomorrow. Last night, in the only game scheduled, the Phils noted out the New York Giants in the ninth, 5 to 4, after the New Yorkers had knotted the count with a three-run rally in their half of the frame.

Both teams were on the field ready to play when the rain came and called the cancelling. With strong lineups each the game tonight if played will no doubt be a tough one. There is considerable rivalry between the two teams. The Forest won the second half, the Sons of Italy the first-half.

The series is the best out of three. Jack Gerson has donated a beautiful trophy cup to the champions.

Baxter To Box Thursday Night

Bouts at Millvale last night were postponed until Thursday night because of the rain. Russell Baxter, a local middleweight, was to have met Henry Smith, Pete Spott and Cab Calloway will headline the docket Thursday night.

Fight Likely Over Successor To Sen. Mead

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(INS)—A possible fight loomed today as to who will pick the successor to Sen. Mead (D. N. Y., as chairman of the senate war investigating committee.

Senate President McKellar (D. Tenn.) called on senate parliamentarian Charles Watkins for a decision on whether the senate presiding officer or the committee itself selects the chairman in the event of a resignation.

Mead announced his intention to submit his resignation when the full war investigating committee gets together, probably about Oct. 1, to campaign for the New York governorship. Mead said "it is up to the committee to name a selection."

The New Yorker said his "presumption" was that the chairmanship would go to Sen. Kilgore (D. W. Va.), thus virtually "nominating" the West Virginia New Dealer, Sen. Connally (D. Tex.), is the ranking majority member of the special committee. Mead indicated he based his assumption that it will go to Kilgore, who is next in line in seniority on the supposition that the busy chairman of the foreign relations committee would not want the post.

Senate attaches said there is some uncertainty about Kilgore's rule that the senate presiding officer appoints chairman of standing committees also applies to special committees set up by resolution.

Poland Astounded At Byrnes' Speech

WARSAW, Sept. 10.—(INS)—A spokesman for the Polish foreign office charged today that U. S. Secretary of State Byrnes is trying to violate the Potsdam agreement when he speaks of changing Polish western frontiers.

The spokesman's remarks referred to the speech made last week at Stuttgart by Byrnes advocating a united Germany administered by the Allies. Byrnes contended he was following the Potsdam agreement as outlined by President Truman, Premier Stalin of Russia and Foreign Secretary Bevin of Britain. But the Polish spokesman said:

"The Byrnes speech is contrary to the Potsdam agreement... the Polish people are more interested than any other people in carrying out the Potsdam agreement... we are astounded at the speech by Mr. Byrnes."

SUSPEND CONTROLS
WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(INS)—OPA today suspended price controls on all motorcycles, motorcycle parts, motor toboggans, certain heavy trucks and several other items.

The maximums also were taken off racing car tires and tubes, casing plastic products in the form of sheets, rods, tubes and preforms before fabrication or printing, and many miscellaneous papers and paper products.

An estimated 98 per cent of the people in the U. S. have received some kind of dental attention.

New Trade School Expected To Care For Many Students

Approval Of Department Of Public
Instruction Sought For Vets
Training Program

Approval of the department of public instruction is being sought by Rev. Father V. V. Stanekowski, for a trade school for veterans in the newly re-opened Terrace School building, recently acquired by the Sts. Philip and James congregation for a parochial school.

This will be necessary before the tuition of veterans who are expected to attend the school can be sanctioned by the Veterans Administration. Some misunderstanding has arisen, Worrell M. Jones, officer in charge of the local Veterans Administration office, stated today, due to a statement that the Veterans Administration is backing the school. The Veterans Administration is not authorized to back any school.

Before veterans can secure the subsistence allowance granted veterans under the G. I. Bill of Rights, who are attending an accredited school, it will be necessary to establish a curriculum, hire instructors, and install the necessary equipment, and after this has been done, to secure the approval of the department of public instruction, he said.

This will necessarily take a little time, but the equipment is being ordered, instructors are being contacted, and a curriculum is being established, which will provide instruction in cabinet making, core making, upholstery and furniture repairing.

Between 150 and 200 veterans are expected to avail themselves of the opportunity of instruction in the above arts.

Woman Plunges Ice Pick Into Back Of Philadelphia Man

Arrest Woman As Puerto Rican Complains Of Pick In His Back

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 10.—(INS)—A man walked up to several policemen who were leaving a station house today and asked calmly: "Hey, will you pull this out of my back?"

The policemen obligingly yanked at a small wooden handle protruding from the man's jacket.

"It's an ice pick," the man added casually.

So the officers stopped their futile tugging and rushed the victim to Hahnemann Hospital.

It took several internes and the chief surgeon to ease a 3½ inch ice pick out of the man's spine.

The victim is in serious condition and doctors marveled that the sharp instrument didn't cause complete paralysis.

The man gave his name as Louis Milean, 39—a Puerto Rican—of North Philadelphia, and he told police he was stabbed by Chichita Gorgona, 27. She was taken into custody on assault charges.

Declares R.A.F. Is 'Very Rocky Now'

LONDON, Sept. 10.—(INS)—Air Marshal Lord Tedder warned today that Britain's Royal Air Force is "very rocky now," he said.

"If we were in trouble we should find it damned difficult," Tedder said he had to race with time to fill up the ranks with RAF volunteers before the drain of war-time personnel has reduced the whole force to impotence, adding: "The position is dangerous and I mean dangerous."

Lord Tedder said that Britain's air force recruiting scheme thus far has been disappointing. He said:

"Unless we do something drastic our voice in the world and the United Nations will count as nothing."

John L. Lewis Attends Funeral

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 10.—(INS)—United Mine Workers President John L. Lewis arrived in Pittsburgh today to attend the funeral of William Hargest, for the past 30 years secretary-treasurer of District 5 UMW.

A one-day postponement of a Washington conference between UMW leaders and the soft coal operators made it possible to pay his final respects to an old friend.

Secret instructions were issued to a special detail of Scotland Yard men and police to be ready to resist any further efforts to "grab" private property.

Meanwhile, it was learned that the ministry of works will obtain a court order to repossess the Duchess of Bedford's house, "sequestered" over the weekend by the "squatters."

Younger Slant On The Town

"Summertime, and the livin' is easy," except when you have to work or go to school. No foolin' though, isn't it wonderful to have some days which resemble summer somewhat?

And if you don't think it's been hot, ask Welly Rugh about the Ice Capades Saturday night. First he'll tell you what the temperature was in Duquesne Gardens, and then he'll tell you he thought the show was swell.

Getting temporary relief from the heat, George and Dorothy Colgan Heckerart were eating dinner Saturday in the cool dining room of "The Pines" (on route 19, not 422).

The Suber was home on Saturday to see Marcia before she left for West Penn hospital's School of Nursing. He's at Cherry Point now, teaching (honestly!) electronics. He's also taking a course himself. He expects to be home for ten days before very long.

Marcia Bollard has a three-year course (really four years condensed into three, with the help of summer school) ahead of her at West Penn.

Dick Dean's school, Parks College of Aeronautical Technology, is now part of St. Louis University, the oldest university west of the Mississippi. It was founded in 1818.

They're back in school now, but seniors Carmie Lombardo and Jim Pears are still thinking of the week they spent at Cedar Point. They had been working all summer so they set out to enjoy this deal. They stayed at the Hotel Breakers and now they're broke.

Speaking of those who are going back to school, Vince Donati has left for Valley Forge Military Academy.

Lois Leach is going to Byrd Mawr for graduate work. Nancy Bechtel has left for Philadelphia where she is going to nursing school.

May we extend our sympathies to Malcolm Marsh. Apparently Ches Shoad no longer has that big blue Buick. He's been driving an old Nash which won't go over forty, even down a hill.

Look, all we want is the name and address of the person who keeps sending the notes about Gloria Surizinger. Until we get it, the message doesn't get printed. We contacted some of the fellows listed in the last note and found out that they had no idea what it was all about.

Pvt. Herb Stewart is now stationed at the Marine Air Base near Peking, China, with Marine Fighter Squadron 211. Raymond Davenport has just arrived in Korea.

Senator Mead To Resign Post As War Prober

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(INS)—Sen. James N. Mead (D-N.Y.) announced he will resign the chairmanship of the Senate war investigating committee to campaign for the governorship of New York.

Mead has headed the committee since 1944 when President Truman stepped out to campaign for the vice presidency.

Mead said he probably will remain as a member of the committee until his term as senator expires January 3.

His resignation probably will take place about October 1, or possibly earlier. It will be submitted as soon as a full meeting of the investigating committee can be held.

Mead said he "assured" that Senator Harley Kilgore (D-W.Va.) would become the next chairman.

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

By JULIAN HARTT
(substituting John Todd is on Vacation)

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 10.—(INS)—Paulette Goddard smoothed her skirt down over her own trim knees today and declared it was about time somebody paid attention to the lower extremities of the stronger sex.

Said Paulette: "Considering the way important male stars are displaying their legs on the screen these days, either in tight, silk stockings of the historical periods, or just plain bare in the jungle epics, we women should turn the tables on them."

Just to prove she wasn't kidding, Paulette jumped into the matter with both her pretty feet and reeled off her own "ten best" to get things rolling.

Bob Hope First
In number one spot she placed Bob Hope, on the basis of his satin pants and silk stocking role in "Monsieur Beaucaire," with Cornell Wilde in second place for his dashy appearance as the son of Robin Hood in "The Bandit of Sherwood Forest."

Based on her own fine understanding—literally and figuratively—of fancy gams and who wears them, Paulette plumps for Gary Cooper in third place. She admits, however, that she may be unduly influenced here because she's working daily opposite Cooper, in a pair of 1763 tights, in C. B. De Mille's "Unconquered."

Paulette drew a deep breath before disclosing her fourth choice, knowing full well she might be risking marital discord for the sake of artistic integrity. But she put it nicely enough.

Names Burgess Also
"Naturally, I can't ignore the handsome pair owned by a chap named Burgess Meredith. Did you see them in 'Tom, Dick and Harry'?" Of course, I'm not at all influenced by the fact he's my husband."

Over that hump, Paulette breezed through the rest of her list without difficulty. The field, with Paulette's reasons for their selection, goes like this:

Ray Milland in tights in "Kitty" Van Johnson in swim trunks in "Bathing Beauty," Danny Kaye in boxing trunks in "The Kid From Brooklyn," Bing Crosby in knee-length Tyrolean costume in "The Emperor Waltz," Bill Evers in tights in "A Royal Scandal," Errol Flynn in boxing garb in "Gentleman Jim," and Johnny Weissmuller in the Tarzan pictures.

Thus delivered of her pronouncement, Paulette leaned back and crossed her knees. It was a good thing your reporter had taken notes, he nearly forgot what Paulette had been talking about.

CHAMBERSBURG—For the first time in Wilson College's 76 year history, men will attend the institution. Twenty men—including 15 veterans—were admitted to the college as non-resident students because of the shortage of educational facilities.
